

Natalia Gagunashvili, Producer

Natalia is a Tbilisi-based producer. In 2020, she returned to her home country of Georgia after completing her studies in Brand Management at UCLA and working in production and management roles in Los Angeles. Natalia has an experience of working as a producer on various projects executing productions ranging from commercial content to feature films. Natalia has closely collaborated with creative agencies, productions and all-around creative minds producing content across a variety of visual mediums for clients all over the world. As a part of Close Up Initiative herself in 2023, Natalia joined the program with the film 'Bitter Sugar'. It eventually led her to take a position of a full-time producer at Close Up in 2024.
